English for Teens teacher testimonials

"It's always fun to teach bright young students from all over the world. It reminds me of my high school teaching days, except this is even more exciting because of the international dynamics. I hope you will have a great time improving your English and exploring Bondi, just like my past students did!"

Adam van den Veer

"What I enjoy most about teaching young bright students is that I can help shape their future. It's very rewarding to see them become confident English speakers and also grow as a person by working with peers from all over the world and different cultures. Even though teaching high school students can be challenging at times, their enthusiasm for learning keeps my brain young and allows me to continue my own journey as a lifelong learner. I hope you'll have fun improving your English here at IH Bondi and exploring this beautiful part of the world."
